Regarding the hq-129 (probably hq-129x), it's a lovely general coverage 540khz to 30 mhz rcvr. Older than the hq-180. Octal tubes of 6k8 6sk7 vintage. I have two and two parts units. Nice old radios. Hope this helps

Subject: TH78a Mods

Does anyone know the real truth about Th78a mods for extended RX / TX ? I have read 6 articles on how to do it and none of them work. Mine was bought in OCT 93 and may need different mods. Anyone know how ? Thanks

Gary Luedemann The nice thing about standards is there are so many to choose form

I would like to have some info about ham radio equipment prices and, if possible, to have some offers (...logical ones).

Thank you.
